Project Idea:

Workout RPG App

Brief Proposal:

We came up with a project idea of a Workout RPG app. The app will track your workouts, but it will also have an RPG character in the app that will mimic you. The character will grow stronger as you log your workout. For example, if you do pushups and record them in the app your RPG character will grow with you. We also want to add a water intake feature. For example it will probably give you a boost or extra health for every time you drink water.
